

Family Support Network

Family Support Network

Family Support Network is a partnership of local charities and non-profit agencies who have agreed to work together in a way that is new and innovative.

We are funded by the local authority but we are completely independent.

The Network works with families who already have some support from other services through a CAF but could still use some extra help.

You can be referred to the Network by someone who works for an agency supporting your family through the CAF.

If your referral is successful we will work with you for about three months. We will follow a unique plan of support that we will agree on together.

The services on the support plan will be delivered by the agencies in the Network. There's no waiting for more referrals to go through or worrying about long waiting lists.

We may be able to offer you some practical help in getting to appointments and making the most of services local to you.

We will give you the information you need to make good choices for your family. Working with us is the start of a journey to a more positive family life.

At the end of our work together, the team working on the CAF will begin working with you again. We will give you and the team some recommendations on how your family can continue on your positive journey.

